Dear Potential Sponsor,

We would like to invite you to sponsor HackMizzou, the annual student-run hackathon started in the Fall of 2016 at the University of Missouri - Columbia. From October 14th to 15th, 2016, the next iteration of HackMizzou will take place.

At HackMizzou, attendees will have 24 hours to develop a variety of technical projects ranging from virtual reality simulations to mobile apps. We would like to invite you to help sponsor HackMizzou and come meet 250 of the best and brightest student hackers around.

Sponsorship can give many possible benefits, including but not limited to:

1. Access to resumes and GitHub/LinkedIn accounts
2. Introduction to upcoming talent, and interviews with those of your choice
3. Demonstration of your API in front of hundreds of hackers
4. Promotion of your brand and product among future members and leaders of tech industry

To get all you possibly can out of HackMizzou:

1. Send company swag - Hackers love laptop stickers, t-shirts, keychains, and anything else you want to give! This builds your brand recognition and makes the hackers happy.
2. Bring company mentors - Hackers will occasionally need help, especially if you demo an API for them to use. Having a mentor there to answer any questions and build a positive relationship will be greatly appreciated by them.
3. Award your own prize - A hackathon is, at its core, a competition among the hackers. Your own branded prize will promote your brand and allow you to see the competitors at their finest.
